

Drive More Efficient Workflows With RFID Readers

Gain greater enterprise intelligence with the speed, accuracy and efficiency of RFID readers from a market leader.

In every industry in the modern marketplace, RFID has made it easy to track inventory wherever it goes throughout a facility and over the road. That means that when you need to know where equipment and packages are in real time, or locate shoes in your retail storeroom, or rotate time-sensitive inventory, such as medications or food, RFID readers help you maintain asset visibility that makes a difference to your bottom line.

Zebra offers the widest range of RFID readers on the market, allowing you to automate processes to move and track goods quickly and accurately. Choose from rugged and sleek handhelds, hands-free devices or fixed RFID readers to help you reduce time locating and counting items, and minimize inventory distortion, misload errors and customer order delays.

Whether your assets are on the move or stored on a shelf, Zebra RFID readers deliver everything you need to track products from receiving to storage to fulfillment operations faster with the visibility required to keep goods moving and drive production performance.

Handle inventory easily and accurately, no matter what industry you're in.
