

ISRAEL PRIVACY STATEMENT

This Israel Privacy Statement supplements the Zebra Privacy Policy to the extent the Protection of Privacy Law, 5741-1981 is applicable to you.

To the extent possible, Zebra will only collect personal data directly from you, unless otherwise permitted by applicable law.

The information that Zebra collects from you is required for the provision of products and services to you. Unless otherwise specified, it is required for Zebra to collect and process all the personal data described in Zebra's Privacy Policy. A failure to provide Zebra with certain information (including personal data) may result in your inability to effectively use Zebra's website and may impact Zebra's ability to provide any products and services to you.

If Zebra requests you to provide certain personal data for the purpose of processing such personal data in Zebra databases, the additional terms apply:

- You are not subject to any legal obligation to provide Zebra with any personal data. Any provision of personal data by you is made subject to your own free will and consent.
- If you do not consent to Zebra's processing of your personal data under the terms of the Zebra Privacy Policy, your user experience and interactions with Zebra's website may be limited, as some of the website's services and features may not be available or function properly without receiving such data.

Zebra may transfer personal data related to you outside the territory of Israel to operate Zebra's website, for product and service delivery, for general business activities, to improve performance, and to create backups to protect personal data in the event of an outage or other malfunctions. Your continued use of Zebra's website indicates your consent to the transfer of your personal data outside of Israel.

Last update: December 18, 2024