

Important Update: Changes to Zebra Device Setup Process using Stage Now and Zebra DNA Cloud

Effective Date: January 1st, 2025

There is an important change in the out-of-box setup process for all Android devices due to recent adjustments to privacy policies mandated by Google that apply to all Android device manufacturers.

Previous Process

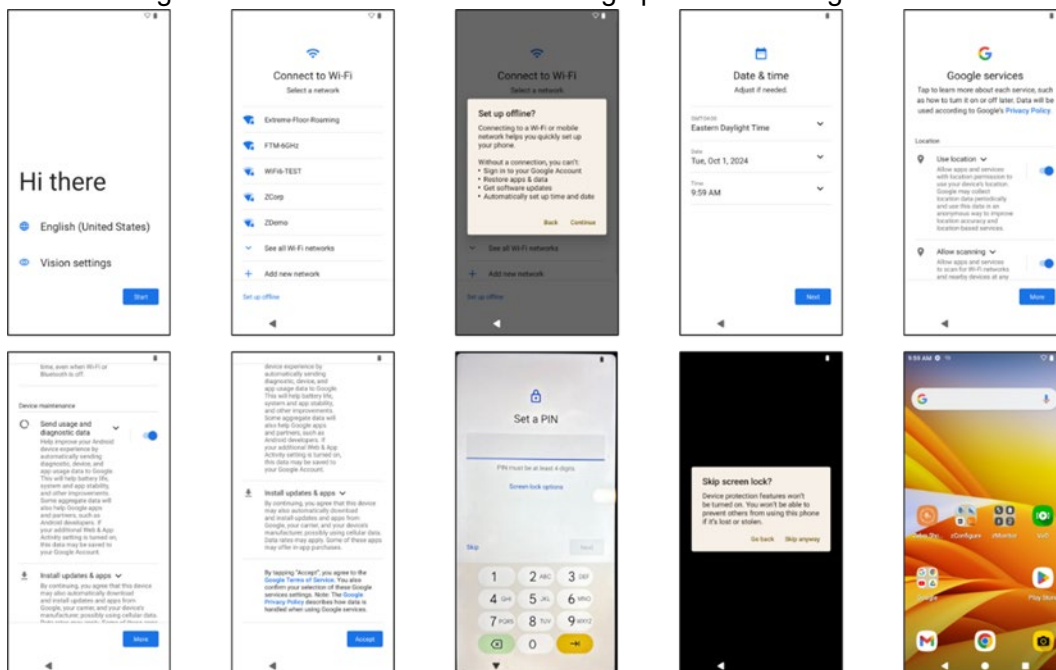

Previously when staging an Android Mobile Computer, all Android setup wizard screens could optionally be bypassed to streamline device setup. This included automatically accepting the privacy terms and conditions on behalf of the organization.

New Process

To ensure compliance with Google's latest guidelines, the following adjustments will be made to the device setup process when using Zebra tools.

- Workflow Change: After scanning a setup barcode created by StageNow or Zebra DNA Cloud, the staging individual will be presented with the privacy screens within the Android setup wizard. This person will need to accept or decline the privacy screens prior to completion of the automated process.
- Impact: This new requirement will introduce additional steps during the staging of a device, and as a result, customers and partners will need to adjust their device setup process to account for this change.

The following screens will be shown when setting up a device using Zebra tools:

By executing the initial setup steps, the person completing the setup represents that they are authorized to perform these steps on behalf of the end user of the device, and that the end user agrees to Google's terms of service, including its privacy policy.
