Quick Reference Guide
Introduction

The MC9000 Fork Truck Holster and Protective Boot enable mounting the MC9000 Series Mobile Computer to a horizontal or vertical surface.

About This Guide

This Quick Reference Guide describes procedures for the following:

- Installing the Protective Boot
- Inserting the MC9000 into a Cradle on page 2
- Installing the Fork Truck Holster on page 3
- Inserting the MC9000 into the Holster on page 4.

For detailed information on the MC9000 series mobile computer, see the Quick Reference Guide or Product Reference Guide for the mobile computer.

Installing the Protective Boot

To install the protective boot onto the MC9000 Mobile Computer:

1. Insert the bottom (keypad end) of the mobile computer into the bottom end of the boot.
2. Fit the top of the boot over the top of the mobile computer.
Inserting the MC9000 into a Cradle

To insert the MC9000 into a cradle while the boot is on, slip the boot off the bottom end of the mobile computer, and insert the mobile computer into the cradle.
Installing the Fork Truck Holster

The holster can be installed on either a horizontal or vertical surface.

Installing on a Horizontal Surface

To install the holster on a flat horizontal surface, place the holster on the surface with the handle opening facing out. Using washers, insert three pan head screws or slotted hex head screws through the three holes on the bottom of the holster, and into the surface.

Installing on a Vertical Surface

To install the holster on a flat vertical surface, place either the back of the holster against the surface, or the right side of the holster against the surface, with the handle opening facing out. Using washers, insert four pan head screws or slotted hex head screws through the four holes on the back or right side of the holster, and into the surface.
Inserting the MC9000 into the Holster

Insert either the top or bottom of the MC9000 into the holster.

Insert the bottom to have access to the screen and keypad.
