

Use your Zebra device to help enable remote collaboration

For all retailers, whether you've been open through lockdown, or are planning to welcome customers soon, you are likely to be looking for support with protecting the safety and welfare of your store colleagues and customers.

Your existing Zebra (and other) devices can help your colleagues collaborate effectively, and may also help you comply with applicable social distancing guidelines by reducing the number of non-essential trips within your buildings.

A software client for mobile devices that works across Wi-Fi and cellular networks and requires no additional servers, site surveys, or infrastructure installation, Workforce Connect is a versatile voice and data application that:

- Shows which colleagues are available and allows them to make instant and intuitive push-to-talk calls to one person or to groups of people
- Enables rich messaging services including text and images. Data messaging can be pre-configured to help users quickly share information with colleagues
- Secures all messaging with always-on, in-transit encryption
- Eliminates the need for additional IT equipment such as 2 way radios by putting this functionality directly onto your Zebra devices making them truly multifunctional

Workforce Connect is simple to deploy remotely, easy to use, and a low-cost way to enable your colleagues to work together efficiently, while staying apart.
